

Cross Section of an Ash Landfill

Workers position a piece of thick, plastic liner over the compacted soil base. This piece of plastic liner will be welded to the adjacent pieces of plastic liner.

This ash landfill "cell" under construction shows compacted soil base, a thick, plastic liner, and a drainage layer. The berm is designed to contain water to be collected for safe disposal.

Construction of this ash landfill cell is complete and the landfill has begun to receive ash.